

Do you have Castleman disease?

The Castleman Disease Collaborative Network (CDCN) has partnered with the University of Pennsylvania to establish a Castleman disease biobank. We collect blood and tissue from patients like you to support research in the fight against Castleman disease.

Participation is voluntary. To be eligible you must:

- Have a doctor diagnose or suspect you to have "Castleman disease".
- Sign an informed consent form (online, in-person, or over the phone).
